I'm very new to yaoi books. I really loved this one. I'm not usually into sci-fi but the story was very cute, funny and serious all in one. Perfectly proportioned. It really left me hanging at the end, wanting more so bad. A lot of times I found myself drooling and other times laughing! The art is just fantastic!

The next great manga from Makoto Tateno. Maybe not as good as "Hero Heel" or "Yellow", but starts interestingly enough. This time in the science-fiction setup. The character gallery rather typical for this author, black haired and mysterious seme, and blond younger uke, fit and reckless but in fact still a naive child. Funny addition to this group are two youngsters, graciously playing the role of sacrifice lambs. So what's the story? ... Well, beware of the MOON. It watches, it listens to us, we are under constant surveillance of its indifferent cool gaze. IKKKK scary ::: ;) So lets switch it OFF! But as usual, the reality is a bit different and..... talking about coyotes in lamb's skins :) The romance thread is nice, although it lacks depth a little bit; but still this is the first volume, so I hope it will develop. What is really interesting, that is the intertwining this story with "Blue Sheep Reverie", the other Makoto Tateno's manga by the two secondary characters Lahti and Kai. It creates a broader perspective and gave the feeling of a whole created universe, which is nice, if you like the heroes, you can "meet" them accidentally in other story. The first volume ends as cliffhanger, so it will tie you in a knot probably. Let's hope the volume two is under way...

I really liked this story, surprisingly so. It's kind of a weird storyline but interesting. Not as great as Yellow, I agree, but it has a certain charm. I really hope number two comes out soon, because I was biting my nails at the end of it, and screaming at the book (I do that often).
