Customer Reviews

This book was designed to teach basic concepts of death and help children understand and express the many feelings they have when someone special dies. Communication is increased and coping skills are developed as they illustrate their books with their personal story.

I love this book so far. I am a counselor at a school and we recently had a former student pass that still has siblings and cousins in our school. This book goes through the basic lifecycle and talks about the natural process of death. It has lots of pages for drawing out their feelings too. I would recommend this book to fellow counselors looking to process death with clients.

Great book for helping my nieces understand and cope with the death of their poppop. We were naturally concerned about how we would explain his passing and this book was helpful.

I am a child therapist and using this book has prompted many a helpful session with my young clients. Be advised that while I do use this with children who have lost their young parents this book leans towards folks who die at a ripe old age.

I bought this for my ten year old daughter when her mom passed away. We use this activity book often. It allows her to express her emotions through writing and drawing. It provides opportunities to discuss feelings and her thoughts. I would highly recommend this booklet.

It works pretty well with my foot neuropathy, I'm very happy with it.

I'm a retired school social worker. I bought this book and used it for 17 years when comforting grieving children. I wished that the school budget allowed me to buy a copy for every child because it is filled with pages for the child to draw and color. Wonderful for parents and counselors alike. If you want to help a grieving family with young children, buy them this. Bought from .

Lot of good activities for kids in this book.

A few years ago, I was a therapist working with young children in a psychiatric hospital. I was referred to this book by another counselor and I have loved it ever since. We would have children complete only 2 or 3 pages at a time, and then fully discuss their feelings a few pages at a time. This is one of the most helpful, simple, and moving books I have ever found for children dealing with loss. I really love it and would recommend it to anyone who wants to help a child deal with the loss of a loved one.
