Darran Wells is a senior NOLS Instructor and Assistant Professor of Outdoor Education & Leadership at Central Wyoming College. He is also an officer for Fremont County Search and Rescue and an avid mountain biker, climber, and backcountry skier. He lives in central Wyoming.

In large part it is a rewrite of the many other land navigation books the I have read previously. A good review, but little if anything new or different.

Wonderfully written, great informative manual. Highly recommended.

Bought this book in hopes of freshening up on land navigation for hiking and hunting. Great resource and has been a big help.

INFORMATIVE AND GOOD INSIGHTS! YOU CAN REALLY COUNT ON THE NOLS TOTAL EXPERIENCE AND INSIGHTS TO GET YOU THROUGH JUST ABOUT ANYTHING YOU MAY ENCOUNTER! THANKS FOR THE GREAT EFFORT!

Received quickly and as described.

Good information

Covering the Old with the New - it helps you learn what you Should know...

This book was very easy to follow and has great tips for both the novice and experienced backcountry hiker. The NOLS books have yet to dissappoint.
