An Edinburgh Companion

Synopsis

Informed by on-the-ground research, Herb Lester's handy, folded guides uncover what makes a city special - its most distinctive shops, restaurants, caf  s, bars, museums and galleries, whether unmissable old favourites, exciting new arrivals or overlooked treasures. Each entry comes with its own brief description, and a basic map helps the reader get their bearings and make plans. Beautiful though it surely is, Scotland's capital has appeal that extends far beyond its elegant facade. Our guide documents wanderings off the well-worn path of the Royal Mile, charting bookshops and butchers, pubs and bakeries, art galleries and gardens. An Edinburgh Companion uncovers the unexpected as well as relishing the traditional, ensuring a trip that goes to the heart of this great city. Printed on a single sheet of 100% recycled paper, these light, portable guides are an ideal travelling companion.

Customer Reviews

Herb Lester Associates publish guides for tourists and locals: witty, pretty, curious and opinionated. We research, write, print and distribute maps and guides to the world's great cities. We seek out the well-used and much-loved, and enjoy the extraordinary as well as the everyday. Old bookshops and new coffee shops, park benches and dive bars, hat shops and haberdashers: this is the world according to Herb Lester.

This is very visually appealing and has interesting recommendations, but it's described as a map, and I don't think this would be that useful in the city. Not all of the street names are included! Even the streets that these recommended places are on. This is more of a visual thing than it is useful. I bet all of these recommendations are on the internet somewhere.
